To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Christopher Penn for over fifteen years as an astute collector. He bought ahead of the market, but based his buying on quality not price. His passion for good things and his knowledge of the artists informed his buying.

Christopher has bought 'modern' British painting, but he has a wide interest and expertise. During his time in Sao Paulo, Brazil he became informed on the great post war artists of that nation. It is an area that I have been working in and Christopher has been very helpful. Their prices have appreciated sharply over the past five years.

I believe Christopher would be an excellent guide in forming collections.

Yours Sincerely,

John Austin
Director
